OUTLINES.

Fifty thousand people yesterday participated in the solemn and patriotic ceremonies which attended the unveiling of a handsome monument, the gift of one million Americans, erected in honor of William McKinley, the martyr president, at the late home of the family in Canton, Ohio; President Roosevelt, Judge Day, Governor Harris and other distinguished men were among the speakers on the notable occasion——It required all day yesterday for the selection of a jury in Wake Superior Court to try Dr. and Mrs. Rowland, charged with the poisoning of Seaboard Air Line Engineer Chas. R. Strange, the first husband of Mrs. Rowland; the hearing of evidence will begin first thing this morning——Authentic reports seem to indicate that a number of heads of departments of Jamestown Exposition will resign with Director General Barr, who has been very much in the limelight for the past several days——Secretary Root and party arrived at Mexico City yesterday and they were greeted by thousands——Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., has joined the Harvard football team and entered light practice——It is reported that Governor Comer, of Alabama, has sold his fine plantation of 18,000 acres to Booker T. Washington, who intends to establish colonies of negroes thereon——Miss Wood, the former government clerk who has been suing United States Senator Thomas C. Platt for several years, yesterday instituted suit in the New York court for divorce, claiming that she had been married to the Senator in 1901; this is denied by Platt's counsel who have asked that the case be heard in private by a referee——Supreme Court Justice Fitts of New York, yesterday granted a division of the actions brought against the directors of the Merchants' Trust Company by the receivers to recover a million and a half dollars lost through negligence mainly in disposing of Richmond, Va., traction securities——New York markets: Money on call stronger and higher at 5 to 6 1-2 per cent; ruling rate, 6; closing bid 5; offered at 5 1-2; spot cotton closed five points lower, closing quiet 11.80; flour quiet and barely steady; wheat, spot steady, No. 2 red $1.03 1-2 elevator; corn easy, No. 2 red, 78 elevator; oats, spot, steady, mixed 53 1-2; turpentine and rosin steady.

The talk about enforcing prohibition in Georgia will be "all moonshine."

There'll be trouble Bruin when the President invades the canebrakes of Louisiana.

If we had only known it in time we could have forwarded sample copies of The Star.

Those who think that Wilmington would give a majority for "prohibition" may be right. Then, again, they may be wrong.

The coal trust never fails to remind us that Winter is coming. It has raised the price of coal 35 cents per ton.

The Atlanta Constitution is discussing the "water resources of Georgia." It is a pertinent subject, as the water wagons will start on their rounds down there next January.

It is one of the misfortunes of all political parties that they have too many place hunters who are ready and willing to advocate anything they think popular.

Time was when Wall Street could create a panic that would affect the business of the whole country; but that time has passed and the fights among the stock gamblers now excite but little interest outside the "Street."

There is no room for a new party in North Carolina, but there is room for reform in the Democratic party. More conservatism and less radicalism and demagogism is what is needed.

The Rev. Dr. Hillis, of New England, declares that "there are forty roads to hell." There are other roads, however, and if you don't want to make any mistake take the ones which will bring you to the land of promise in and around Wilmington.

The schedule of the street cars on Front street is all right, but that on Princess street is all wrong and continues to provoke much energy of expression from those who are inconvenienced. "All things come to him who waits," but sometimes they are so long coming.

Mr. T. W. Clawson, of The Star staff, leaves to-day on a short trip to South Carolina, where he goes to make preliminary arrangements for the development of some mining property in which he is interested. Like Col. Mulberry Sellers, "Tom" thinks there's "millions in it." The Star trusts his golden dreams may be realized and that he will not forget to bring us a few nuggets when he returns.

THE SCHOOLS OPEN

Indications of Increased Attendance at the Various Institutions Yesterday.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Enrollment There About 200; At Hemenway About 800 and at Union Nearly a Thousand—Members of the Faculty.

The public schools of Wilmington opened yesterday with every indication of an increased attendance over that of last year, when they then led the State in number of children, this having been considerably over 3,000. This season the enrollment bids fair to exceed even 3,500 pupils. The opening yesterday was marked by no formality other than the reception and classification of the students at the several institutions. Superintendent Blair and all the teachers and principals were on hand, so that the work moved off smoothly on the very first day.

The High School opened with an attendance of 196, which is about an average. Mr. J. B. Huff, the principal, states that the Freshman class this year is about 30 or 35 smaller than last year, owing to the failure of many of the grammar school pupils to receive promotion last year. The class of new students this year numbers 75, against about 110 last year. The Junior class is probably the largest in the history of the school and numbers 42. The Sophomores are 65 in number and the sedate Seniors are 22, which is also quite a large class for graduation in June.

The enrollment at Union and Hemenway schools during the day was about as formerly with indications of an increase to past all record before the week is over. At the Union School there were 970 registrations and at Hemenway between 800 and 900. The attendance at Union will exceed one thousand before the term has progressed very far.

There have been few changes in the faculty of the schools for the year. Mr. J. B. Huff returns to the High School as principal and the faculty is composed as follows: Miss Agnes Carr, of Indiana, English; Miss Isabelle Gulley, of Wake Forest, Latin; Miss Fredericka Jenkins, of Raleigh, History; Miss Fitts, of Charlottesville, Va., Mathematics; Miss Emma Bonney, of Albany, N. Y., Science.

The faculty of the Union School is composed of the following members: Misses Hester C. Struthers, Gertrude Bryan, Annie McKoy, Julia Hill, Sarah Crosswell, Adelaide Meares, Sawyer, Maggie Wood, Elizabeth LeGwin, Irene Peterson, Maud Kingsbury, Theo. LeGrand, Eliza Meares, Jane Green, Belle Anderson, Mary D. Parsley and Meta LeGrand. Miss Mott in charge of Domestic Science, and Miss M. E. Cook, principal.

The Hemenway School faculty is as follows: Misses Jennie Wood, Mary B. Jones, Louise Hill, Kate Barden, Mary B. Jones, Louise Hill, Kate Barden, Mary A. Bernard, Lydia E. Yates, Sue Boon, Farmer, Claire Lathrop, Carrie Duffy, Kate Yarborough, Augusta Wiggins, Florrie V. King, Kate Johnson, Bessie Loder, Margaret Horsfield. Mr. Wingate Underhill is principal.

On Pleasant Mission.

Mr. Clarence W. Mills, accompanied by Mr. Thos. J. Gause, Jr., left Sunday afternoon for Bennettsville, S. C., where on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Mills will claim as his bride Miss Bessie McLaurin, a daughter of United States Senator John L. McLaurin, and one of the most attractive young women of South Carolina. Mr. Gause will be Mr. Mills' best man, and after the ceremony the bride and groom will leave for the North on a wedding trip, returning by way of the Jamestown Exposition. They will be at home here at the residence of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Mills.

CAR SMASHED INTO WAGON

Delivery Vehicle Driven by Mr. J. Plummer Gilbert Struck at Third and Princess Streets Last Night—Injury Was Slight.

A delivery wagon belonging to Gilbert Brothers and being driven by Mr. J. Plummer Gilbert, of the firm, was struck by street car No. 24 at Third and Princess, the City Hall corner, last night about 9:30 o'clock. As the result of the collision Mr. Gilbert was thrown out and suffered a painful but not serious wound in the scalp and a small colored boy named Miles, either with Mr. Gilbert or swinging to the rear of the wagon, received a painful laceration of the arm. The vehicle was only slightly, if any, damaged though all hands had a narrow escape.

From the best information obtainable the car was coming down the hill toward the junction at Front and Princess streets and Mr.Gilbert was driving North on Third street, coming along pretty lively. He thought he could cross in front of the car as there was another vehicle just passing and when he reached the track upon which the car was running, he found it was too late to get out of the way. The motorman on the car retained his presence of mind and did all possible to lighten the impact of the collision, but Mr. Gilbert was thrown out with considerable violence and the small colored boy was pitched into the air some distance. It is stated that when he struck the ground he struck it running and all efforts to locate him on the part of the car men proved unsuccessful. Mr. Gilbert was able to leave the scene of the accident unassisted but has a very ugly cut in his scalp, which will inconvenience him for several days.

THE SEARCH FOR BRYANT.

Man Implicated in Banks Rothwell Killing Not Yet Taken.

Although yesterday and on Sunday the efforts of the sheriff's office and the constabulary of New Hanover were concentrated in an effort to find L. M. Bryant, the white man who was implicated with young Cook and Riggins in the killing of old man Banks Rothwell in the country one morning before day last week, the officers up to late last night had been unable to locate the man and he is still at large. What makes the search all the more tantalizing, there is hardly an hour in the day but what some report reaches the city that Bryant has been seen somewhere in the county. The officers run down every report, but thus far they have been unable to locate their man.

Last night there was a report to the City Hall that Bryant had been seen in his cart going out Market street. Constable Savage was notified, but he had not then returned from another part of the county some distance from Wilmington, where he and a posse from Sheriff Cowan's office were diligently looking for the man.

Why Bryant should attempt to stay out of the way is puzzling. His attorneys inform him that he has an excellent defence and he has considerable property at stake in New Hanover. The popular belief is that he has not yet left the county and will give himself up at no distant date. But in the meantime the sheriff and Constable Savage say they must find him. They are certainly leaving no stone unturned to this end.

NEW RULE FOR POLICE

An Old Regulation That Will be Enforced—Must Not Talk.

As the members of the police force went on duty yesterday they were notified by Chief of Police Williams that in future Rule 29 of the Police Regulations will be strictly enforced. This is the rule with reference to patrolmen on the beats engaging citizens in prolonged conversations while they are on duty. The rules prescribe that officers shall continuously walk their beats and shall not engage in conversation with citizens except on business pertaining to matters of the department or giving information. It means that "all chewing the rag" must stop and will come as a rather hard blow not only upon members of the force but upon the night wanderers, including members of the newspaper fraternity, who find it quite convenient and pleasant in the wee sma' hours of the night to go up and join the friendly "cop" on the corner in a pleasant little conversation about things of current discussion. But the rule is to be enforced and will no doubt, after all, result in the betterment of the service. Violation of the rules subjects the officer to suspension by the chief with the endorsement of the Mayor.

Hack Ordinance Into Effect.

Chief of Police Williams yesterday issued official notice that the new ordinance requiring public hacks and conveyances to be licensed and numbered will go into effect today, October 1st. All public hackmen are required to secure certificates from the City Hall at a nominal figure and to receive a number, which will be prominently displayed by the owner on badges for their hats, which badges have been ordered and will be here this week. The new law is for the two-fold purpose of protecting the public against overcharges and the like and to assist the police in ferreting out any irregularities that may occur in the traffic.

ROWLANDS ON TRIAL

Noted Case of Physician and Newly Wed Wife Called in Wake Court.

POISONED ENGINEER STRANGE

An Entire Day Required to Select Jury—All Farmers Except Prominent Raleigh Jeweler, Who Doesn't Want to Serve.

(By Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 30.—The twelfth juror in the trial of Dr. D. S. Rowland and his wife Lillie M. Rowland, for the muder by poison in March of Engineer Charles S. Strange, Mrs. Rowland being then his wife, was secured at 6:25 tonight, after working at this all day a second special venire of 25 being called in addition to the 150 summoned before. It seemed at one time as if no jury could be secured and Judge Long said that if this was not done with some dispatch that he would move the trial to another county. Within five minutes after this, the jury was completed. It is composed of eleven farmers from the country and the jeweler of this city. The hearing and evidence will be begun at 9:30 in the morning.

Effort will be made to prove that Dr. Rowland was Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde in real life and that to appearances he led an exemplary existence, while secretly making a study of deadly poisons and plotting murder. He was even arrested on a charge of having poisoned his own child to get some insurance money, but he was let go because the chemists could find no trace of poison in the tests which they made. In the present case Dr. Rowland is alleged to have used aconitine, a vegetable poison. Judge Benjamin F. Long is presiding at the trial and prominent counsel are engaged on both sides of the case.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 30.—An evening session was necessary to complete the selection of the jury. At five o'clock the announcement was made that the special venire was exhausted with only ten jurors accepted. The judge then made an order that a recess be taken to six o'clock. The sheriff was directed to return twenty-five additional veniremen. This was done and one juror was still lacking when the last man of this venire was called. He was L. A. Mahler, the well known jeweler of Raleigh, and was accepted by both sides before he had an opportunity to raise the point of his exemption on account of his being a member of Raleigh police commission. The judge refused to entertain a motion to excuse him later because of his official position and directed the formal arraignment of the prisoners to proceed so that the taking of evidence will begin at 9:30 tomorrow the last feature of the evening being the formal empanneling of the jury.

After adjournment Juror Mahler made another vain attempt to induce the judge to release him and later sent for a physician saying he had neuralgia in the face. A physician's certificate is expected in the morning for his discharge. The judge's order is that the jury be held together night and day. The jurors are L. A. Harper, J. A. Massey, E. N. O'Donnell, J. H. Oliver, J. G. Sandling, E. T. Massey, W. F. Stinson, H. J. Duke, W. H. Carpenter, George W. Partin, J. G. Strickland and L. A. Mahler.

Major John H. Andrews, of the Southern Railway, a son of Vice President A. B. Andrews, was one of the last venire summoned and had not appeared in court when his name was called and the judge directed that a fine of $40 be imposed. However, Mr. Andrews appeared a few minutes later, showed that officer had misinformed him as to the time court reconvened and the fine was remitted.

"OUT TO THE WOODS."

Fourteen Convicts Begins Highway Improvement at Quarry.

Fourteen defendants sentenced at last week's term of the criminal branch of the Superior Court were taken out to the county rock quarry by Superintendent Herbert Hocutt yesterday, and they have already enlisted under the banner of highway improvement for New Hanover. Of the fourteen taken from the jail, four are whites and the remainder colored. All are able-bodied workmen as the county farm receives the physical defectives.

Young Joe Mason is the longest termed of the number sent out yesterday. He will serve seven years for the larceny of a mule from a colored man in East Wilmington some weeks ago. He is no stranger out at the camp, as he had just completed a two-year sentence for highway robbery when he was sent out this time.

All told, Superintendent Hocutt has 88 convicts at the camp and on the roads. Most of them are engaged in getting material for the roads from the new quarry, but others are engaged in the actual roadbuilding in various parts of the county.

CAROLINA PLEASURE CO.

Incorporators of New Wilmington Enterprise Meet and Elect Directors. General Meeting of Stockholders to Be Held Friday.

The incorporators of the Carolina Pleasure Palace, of Wilmington, which was recently chartered by the Secretary of State, at a recent meeting elected the following Board of Directors of the enterprise, viz: Messrs. C. W. Polvogt, J. A. Arringdale, J. H. Hinton, J. Walter Williamson, Rev. Father C. Dennen, J. H. Rehder, Jake L. Solomon, Dr. C. P. Bolles, W. D. MacMillan, Jr., D McEachern, Jas F. Woolvin, Dr Thos. M. Green, M. F. H. Gouverneur, W. A. French, Jr., and C. N. Evans. The first meeting of the board of directors will be held Saturday, and arrangements will be made for beginning work at once in carrying out the purposes of the organization.

It has been decided to have only one of the two propositions at first contemplated, either the country place or the resort in the city. After some discussion by the incorporators, Messrs. Polvogt, Hinton, Dr. Green, Col. J. VanB. Metts and Mr. A. E. Peschau, it was decided to refer the entire matter of the scope of the company's undertaking to a meeting to be held next Friday night in the Court House, when it is expected all stockholders will be in attendance.

The company is composed of some of the leading men in the city, and it is believed that their plans for the Carolina Pleasure Palace will mature. It would prove an important factor in the life of the city.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS.

Delay of Stamped Paper Reduces Percentage of Increase.

The receipts at the Wilmington postoffice for the quarter ended last night were $22,206.27, against $20,449.22 same quarter last year. The rate of increase in the receipts is eight and a half per cent. for the three months, which is not the showing that one would expect from the rapidly growing city that Wilmington continues to be. The slight increase is accounted for in the delay of stamped paper, envelopes, wrappers, etc., none of which has been received at the local office since August 3d, this being due to a change of the contract by the government and the impossibility of getting the new plant in order. Had the stamped paper been received as it was ordered, the percentage of increase for the three months just ended would have shown up very much larger.

In this connection Postmaster Wallace desires to call the attention of the public to the fact that hereafter the registry department will be opened at 7:30 o'clock mornings instead of 8 A. M. as heretofore. This gives the public an opportunity of registering mail matter in time to catch the morning trains out of Wilmington and the change in hour will be a great convenience to the people.

CARPENTER & MILLER, GROCERS.

Popular Young Wilmingtonians Enter Business for Themselves.

Messrs. Will W. Miller and Archie Morriss Carpenter, two popular young Wilmingtonians, have formed a copartnership to conduct a general fancy grocery business and have purchased the stock, good will ,etc., of Mr. R. B. Moore, northeast corner Third and Castle streets, where they will be located in the future. The store is being handsomely remodelled and finished on the interior, while all new fixtures are being put in, these including silent salesmen show cases and other approved appliances for serving the trade promptly and with absolute cleanliness. The stock will be kept fresh and of the very best at all times and the store will be made one of the prettiest in the whole city.

Messrs. Miller and Carpenter are young men of ability and character and they promise to do well with their enterprise. They have had experience in business affairs and are already enjoying a good patronage.

"The Tar Heel Boy."

The Star has received with pleasure the first number of "The Tar Heel Boy," a semi-monthly juvenile magazine published by Messrs. Fred C. and Julian H. Robertson, progressive young Wilmingtonians, who have purchased their own printing outfit and issue the paper from what is known as "The Robertson Press." Typographically and as to subject matter, "The Tar Heel Boy" is all to the good. The first page is printed in two colors and the advertising section and editorial departments are all that could be desired. The Star doffs its cap for the very cordial expression of the editors of the new paper upon the recent fortieth anniversary of the Star. May "The Tar Heel Boy" live long and prosper!

Insane White Woman.

Carrie Batts, an insane young white woman, formerly an inmate of the Rescue Home on Church street, this city, was taken into custody by Policeman J. M. Lord Sunday afternoon at Eighth and MacRae streets. Her associates complained of the condition of her mind and it was thought best to have the county take charge of the case, so she was sent over to the jail. A commission of lunacy will pass upon her sanity and will recommend that she be sent to one of the State institutions.

ASKS $25,000 DAMAGE

Interesting Civil Action Begun Yesterday Morning in New Hanover Superior Court.

COAST LINE IS DEFENDANT

Death of Conductor W. M. Branch, of Construction Train in Florida Three Years and a Half Ago. Jury Selected; Testimony.

The Superior Court on the opening day of its two weeks' term for the trial of civil actions, was engaged all day yesterday in the hearing of the damage suit of Jno. M. Branch, administrator of the estate of his son, the late William H. Branch, against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $25,000 for the death of the deceased, resulting from an accident while acting as conductor of a construction train of the defendant company at Lawton, Fla., on March 3d, 1904. The case was taken up first thing yesterday morning, and when a recess for the day was taken at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the testimony for the plaintiff was not all in. It will require another day, perhaps longer, to complete the trial.

The complaint alleges that contrary to its duty, the defendant company on the day in question had not furnished the plaintiff with a safe and secure locomotive and cars for the performance of his work, nor a crew sufficient for the operation of the train, in consequence of which the plaintiff was required to couple cars and that while so acting as a brakeman, which the company had failed to furnish, the engine was brought back against the string of cars, mashing the plaintiff to death between the bumpers of said cars. It is further alleged that the locomotive with which the cars were being shifted was out of repair and defective and that the air brakes were insecure; that couplers, drawheads, etc., were also out of order. It is further alleged that one Roberts, employed as an engineer of the train, was incompetent, habitually careless and negligent in the discharge of his duties; that he was defective of vision, irascible of temper and unskilful in his occupation.

The answer sets up that the accident occurred in Florida and as the plaintiffs intestate left no goods or chattels in this county the appointment of the administrator here is null and void. All the allegations as to the incompetency or lack of skill by Engineer Roberts are denied, as are also those that the defendant company was negligent or inconsiderate of the safety of its employes on the train. For a second defence, it is set out that the plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence in the accident which caused his death. It is further set up that it was no part of the duties of Conductor Branch to make the coupling and that he was fixed with the knowledge of the danger in which he stood; that if he had a cause of action, the Florida courts were open to him and that the suit is not properly brought in this county.

Court met at 10 A. M. and of the jurors for the term the sheriff returned J. N. Sweeney, Jas. J. Allen, John Ahrens, J. C. Loder, Walter Smallbones, C. T. Miller, D. H. Lee, Albert L Solomon, Geo. A. Diebert, J. T. Eagle, N. B. Chadwick, B J. Kuhlken, F. L. Porter, J. W. Copeland. Excused by the court: Walter Smallbones and C. T. Miller.

Jurors Albert Solomon and J. W. Copeland were called and failed and each was fined $40. They were cited to appear and show cause why the judgment should not be made absolute.

The following cases were continued by consent: Rheinstein Dry Goods Company against H. A. Townsend; R. W. Hicks against W. W. Blair and J. G. Wright & Son against Williams Brothers.

Nearly all the morning session was taken up with the selection of a jury to try the Branch damage suit. The attorneys are Messrs. Empie & Empie and Herbert McClammy, Esq., for the plaintiff; Messrs. Rountree & Carr, Davis & Davis and John D. Bellamy & Son for the defendant railroad company. The jury as finally empanelled consists of Messrs. J. N. Sweeney, John Ahrens, J. T. Eagle, N. B. Chadwick, A. H. Weedon, George Hutaff, John H. Kuch, D. L. T. Capps, John F. Littleton, N. Humphrey, C. C. Rice and J. F. McInnis.

The evidence in the case is being taken by Miss Stella Shrier and the examination of witnesses is very tedious, the attorneys contesting every point.

The witnesses examined yesterday were Mr. John M. Branch, the plaintiff; Special Agent W. S. Woods, of Jessups, Ga., employed by the Coast Line, and J. D. Burbage, flagman on the train of Conductor Branch. The last named was on the stand when court took a recess for the day at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

DREWRY'S STATEMENT.

In justice to Maj. Drewry we print below the complete text of his statement of his connection with the Southern Railway vouchers that has caused so much unfavorable comment throughout the State. The statement, as printed in the Raleigh Times of the 28th September, is as follows:

"About the year 1899 I purchased an interest in the Visitor-Press Company, and associated with me in the management of the paper Mr. John Wilber Jenkins. Since that time I have had an ambition to publish an ideal afternoon daily paper in the city of Raleigh, believing that it would add much to the welfare and prosperity of this city and to the business interests of our State. The paper, by pursuing a fair, conservative and independent course, has gradually grown, until it has become one of the largest and best afternoon daily papers in the South.

"In the early Fall of 1905 I approached Colonel Andrews and asked him how he would like to see a large afternoon paper in this city, taking the full Associated Press dispatches. He said he would like very much to see it, as the morning paper had a personal animosity against the Southern Railway Company and himself, and had never treated either fairly, and that he would like to see a good and impartial paper in Raleigh that would tell the truth.

"I asked him what he would do toward the enterprise. He said he would not take any stock, but would give us advertising to the extent of a few thousand dollars upon the Times publishing the schedules, special notices, and such clippings from other papers as he might designate, the editorial department to be left entirely with the Editor.

"Arrangements were then made to enlarge the Times and take the full Associated Press dispatches, all of these arrangements being perfected before I had an idea of being a candidate for the State Senate.

"In April of the following year Colonel Andrews gave me a Southern Railway voucher for $2,000, payable to me, as president of the Press-Visitor Company. I turned this voucher over to Mr. Geo. B. Crater, business manager of the Times, and it was deposited to the credit of the Raleigh Evening Times, in the Citizens National Bank on April 5th.

"In August following Colonel Andrews gave me another voucher for $2,000, payable to me as president of the Raleigh Evening Times, which voucher was also turned over to Mr. Geo. B. Crater, business manager of the Times, which voucher was deposited in the Citizens National Bank to the credit of the Raleigh Evening Times on August 8th. These entries are all shown on the books of the Raleigh Evening Times and the Citizens National Bank.

"In the latter part of January following, Colonel Andrews gave me another voucher for $2,000, payable to the Times for advertising, which was placed in the Citizens National Bank.

"However, after thinking over the matter, a few hours afterwards I realized that as State Senator from Wake county I might be criticized for accepting a voucher from the Southern Railway Company, even though I did so in my capacity as president of the Visitor-Press Company, and in the performance of an agreement that was made before I was a candidate for office.

"I immediately went to see Colonel Andrews, and found that he had gone to Washington. The following morning I saw Mr. Henry Miller, and told him how I felt about the matter and that I had determined to return it to the Southern Railway Company, which I did through Mr. Miller immediately.

"The books of the Southern Railway Company, which the attorneys for the State no doubt saw, show that this amount reached Washington in due course, and was credited February 4th, as having been paid back by the Raleigh Evening Times.

"Neither Colonel Andrews nor the Southern Railway, nor any other corporation or individual outside of my immediate family contributed one nickel towards my campaign fund, either directly or indirectly.

"My record in the Senate will bear me out in the statement that I was not influenced or controlled to the slightest extent by either Colonel Andrews or the Southern Railway Company, nor has either ever undertaken to do so, because in almost every measure that came before the Senate affecting railroads I voted against the railroads and in favor of what I believed to be the best interests of the State.

"I promised the people of Wake county to vote for a reduction of railroad rates and voted for a two-and-a-half cent rate. Subsequently, when the conference report was presented to the Senate, fixing the rate at two and a quarter cents, I voted for that.

"I have served the Visitor-Press Company, which publishes the Times, as president, and part of the time as general manager, ever since I have been connected with it, and I have never drawn one dollar out of the business for my services. In addition to that, I have paid about $10,000 in cash in to the paper, besides allowing the company to occupy my building for more than two years now without paying one dollar for rent.

"I have never had any desire or thought that the Evening Times would prove a profitable investment from a pecuniary standpoint, but I have labored to build up this paper, believing that it would ultimately be a power for good in this community and a benefit to the best interests of the State.

"This is a full and frank statement of my entire connection with the Southern Railway vouchers.

"The statement would have been made sooner, but I felt that it was best to be calm and deliberate, verify every fact and detail before making any statement at all. I know I have been severely criticised, but I preferr to wait patiently and undergo any amount of criticism rather than make a mistake in the slightest detail in making this statement.

"JOHN C. DREWRY."

We see no reason for doubting that Maj. Drewry has stated the facts as they occurred in connection with his conversation with Col. Andrews; nor do we believe that Maj. Drewry is a corrupt man; but the fact remains that he was dealing with Col. Andrews as a vice-president and representative of the Southern Railway and not as an individual.

Maj. Drewry admits that as president of the newspaper company he received from Col. Andrews two Southern Railway vouchers for $2,000 each, which he turned over to Mr. Crater, business manager of the Times. A third voucher for $2,000, given Maj. Drewry last January, he, very properly, returned as he had then been elected a member of the Senate and realized that his acceptance of this voucher, under the circumstances, might be made the subject of unfavorable criticism.

It is a matter of proof, however, that the amount paid the Times for advertising by the Southern Railway was many times the value of such advertising, at regular rates, and this very naturally, has fixed in the public's mind the belief that the money contributed by the Southern Railway to the support of the Raleigh Times was mainly in the nature of a bonus or subsidy.

We are thoroughly convinced that Maj. Drewry tells the truth when he says he has never drawn a dollar out of the treasury of the Times, and that he has not been benefitted individually by the contributions of the Southern Railway.

If not of very questionable propriety, the transaction with Col. Andrews, as a representative of the Southern Railway, was certainly a grave indiscretion on the part of Maj. Drewry.

The October number of the Atlantic Monthly is one of unusual excellence, the table of contents being attractive both in variety and interest. The Atlantic will celebrate its semi-centennial next month and promises an array of contributors rarely grouped in one issue of a magazine. Four dollars a year. CURRENT COMMENT.

—Those who are trying to solve the Fairbanks cocktail mystery are singularly like the officers of the Department of Justice who are aiming to end the law-breaking of the great criminals by keeping them out of jail. Thus the cocktail investigators seek to reveal the person who offered to set them up. But the issue is not who ordered the cocktains; it is who drank them.—N. Y. Press (Rep.)

—Kentucky is a happy State and in a happy state of mind. She has paid off her last bond, is out of debt and has several hundred thousand dollars in the treasury. She has built a capitol costing $1,000,000, two State normal schools, a soldiers' home and a home for orphans, enlarged every State institution and extended her common school term to six months, all on a tax rate of fifty cents on $100.—Auburn Citizen (Dem.)

—When the magnitude of the problems with which the Conference (at The Hague) had to deal and the many difficulties to be encountered are duly considered, it should be regarded as cause for congratulation that some progress was made in improving machinery for international arbitration. Slow and sure is the true motto of international action. If the Conference did nothing more than to meet and discuss questions of international law, it would be a distinct gain for the cause of peace; but it is probable that the Conference will not adjourn without positive achievement, which, while less than was hoped, will still be of distinct value, and a sign of progress in the right direction.—Baltimore News (Dem).

—What Governor Folk said in his speech at Nashville yesterday about the indefensible character of many of the provisions of the present tariff, was correct, but he should have taken pains to explain that there is a great difference between tariff reform and free trade. Failure to impress this difference on the public mind has cost the Democratic party a vast number of votes in past campaigns, and may do so again unless the chief men in the Democratic party are careful to guard themselves against a misunderstanding. The country can be carried for tariff reform, but the notion that it can be carried for free trade is confined to the minds of a few theorists who count for less in the practical life of the United States today than ever before.—Brooklyn Citizen (Dem.)

Advance in Rates of Subscription Beginning October 1st.

Beginning October 1, the subscription rates of The Morning Star will be as follows:

By Mail—One year, $6.00; six months, $3.00; three months, $1.50; two months, $1.25; one month, 75 cents.

By Carrier—Delivered in any part of the city, 50 cents per month either by the month or year.

This moderate advance has been deferred until it has become absolutely necessary on account of the largely increased cost involved in the production of newspapers.

For many years the subscription price of The Morning Star has been lower than that of any other paper of its class in the State.

Kind Words

(Goldsboro Headlight.)

The Wilmington Star, the oldest daily paper in the State, celebrated its 40th anniversary Sunday by appearing in a 16 page edition. Continued success to Editor Bernard.

(Charlotte News.)

The Wilmington Morning Star has just celebrated its fortieth birthday. The News offers its heartiest congratulations for such a long and successful career and wishes for its contempoary many more years of usefulness. The Star is one of the brightest dailies of the State and that it has grown stronger through these years speaks for its worth.

(Greenville Reflector.)

On Sunday the Wilmington Morning Star celebrated its fortieth anniversary. Mr. W. H. Bernard has been at the helm through all these years, and both he and the paper have had a remarkable career. The editor and the Star are both proud of its age, as they have a right to be, as well as for the splendid record of usefulness the papear has made. It is the oldest daily paper in the State.

(Winston Journal.)

The Morning Star at Wilmington last Sunday celebrated its 40th anniversary in fine style, giving a history of the paper and a fac simile of its first edition as a morning paper and an excellent picture of Maj. William H. Bernard, who has been editor of the publication since it was founded. No other North Carolina editor has remained at the head of one newspaper for 40 consecutive years and we doubt if the record of Maj. Bernard and The Star can be equalled in the entire country. The Star is brighter today than ever and the Major is just as young as he was 40 years ago. We extend congratulations and express the hope that the Star will twinkle under its present editorial management for many years to come.

(Southport Herald.)

The Wilmington Morning Star was forty years old last Sunday and in celebration of this truly remarkable age the paper was published in 16 page form and as a souvenir edition which was creditable and especially interesting to its old friends and the Star has many of them—and in saying the Star of course it is taken for granted that Major Bernard—its editor—is included. The Star now enjoys the distinction of being one of the best papers in the State with the improvement in its news columns and general make-up increasing with every issue. Since its beginning the Star has never changed management, our good friend Major Bernard having guided the helm through storms and rough waters to its present success. May the Star have many, many, more fortieth anniversaries.

EASILY DECIDED.

This Question Should Be Answered Easily by Wilmington People.

Which is wiser—to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow-citizens, of people you know, or depend on statement made by utter strangers residing in far-away places? Read the following:

H. Cronenberg, photographer, of 119 1-2 Market street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Ointment and it did its work promptly and permanently. I had a rash all over me, and no one knows how I suffered. It was like being in the infernal region and I could get no relief. I did not dare scratch because that made it worse. I tried everything but only to be disappointed. Some one told me about Doan's Ointment and I procured a box at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. I went home and applied some of the ointment and I can say that it brought the first relief I had had for a long time. I can only add that it is a preparation of great merit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's — and take no other.

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drought are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Early Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold cure and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy's drug store 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

HERRING CASE POSTPONED.

Other Party to Saturday Afternoon Affray Unable to Be Present.

The case of Walter Herring, the electrician charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon John C. McAllister, foreman of street mains for the Consolidated Company, had to be postponed in the police court yesterday on account of the inability of Mr. McAllister to be present. He was reported still laid up at his home and he may not be able to be in court for several days, though his injuries are not considered dangerous. Herring is out under bond of $50 for his appearance when the case is called. He offered to submit the case to the Mayor yesterday, stating that he very much regretted the affair, but the Mayor told him he would have to wait until all sides could be heard.

Yesterday the Mayor had the smallest docket in the police court he has ever had for a Monday. All the cases were trifling. Ed. Herring, white, was charged with being drunk and down and was given 30 days on the farm, this being on account of his physical inability to do heavy manual labor, he being a one-legged man. Willie Richardson, a young negro, was let off with the costs for an assault on a negro much larger than himself. Elizabeth Shaw, arrested by Officer C. S. Burnett for disorderly conduct, and John Akleman, a sailor charged with being drunk and disorderly and arrested by Officer E. Piner at Front and Chestnut streets, were each fined $5 and costs.

DR. HYATT, THE SPECIALIST.

Very High Compliment Paid to Dr. Hyatt, Wilmington's Celebrated Specialist.

On our recent trip to Wilmington, the editor made a visit to the office of Dr. H. O. Hyatt, the eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, whose offices are over the Murchison National Bank. Dr. Hyatt is a man of wide experience, having been a practicing physician for more than thirty years, and for the past 18 years, has made a specialty of the diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. Dr. Hyatt has been wonderfully successful in his practice which is evidence of the fact that he is thoroughly prepared and knows his business. He is receiving a wide practice at his office in Wilmington, this practice extending over a radius of 75 miles in each direction from Wilmington, and his practice is growing rapidly.—From the Whiteville Echo.

Big Comic Opera Success at Academy of Music Friday Night.

Next Friday night DeKoven, Klein and Cook's "Red Feather" will be at the Academy. This is one of the most notable comic opera presentations of the past few years and from all reports is fully deserving of the modicum of praise that has been bestowed upon it. From the day that Reginald De Koven offered the musical public the sparkling airs of "Robin Hood," although since that his successes have been many, he has not written such brilliant music as that which he embodied in the score of "Red Feather." There are solos that are masterpieces, duets that for daintiness, grace and expression are unsurpassed, inspiring marches, stirring choruses, and robust ensembles that fully merit the most flattering commendation that has been accorded them. To interpret this music Manager Jos. M. Gaites has gathered a company of singers who are fully adequate to perform the important task assigned them. The Prima donna of the organization is Miss Cheridah Simpson, who possesses a remarkably sweet voice and in addition is an accomplished actress. In all, the company numbers some seventy-five artists and has gained the reputation of being the best singing and acting light opera body en tour. A luxurious production, costing in the neighborhood of $70,000, was made by the Ziegfeld Opera Company and this will be seen in all of its lavishness of detail. An important auxilliary is the augmented orchestra. Seats will be on sale Thursday.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

HIS INJURIES WERE FATAL.

Young Man Fatally Hurt at Plant of Whiteville Lumber Company.

L. S. Powell, 28 years of age, a young white man employed at the plant of the Whiteville, Lumber Co., Whiteville, N. C., died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, in this city to which he had been brought on the afternoon train for treatment. Young Mr. Powell at 8 o'clock yesterday morning had his leg caught in the cogs of some machinery at the mill and both were crushed off to the knee. He suffered much pain and was much exhausted when he reached here on the Florence train at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, it having been impossible to get him here sooner. He had previously been given surgical attention at Whiteville and was accompanied to Wilmington by Mr. P. H. Sears, superintendant of the mill. Soon after his death remains were turned over to funeral director James F. Woolvin and will be returned on the 5 o'clock train this morning to his home at Whiteville for interment. It is stated that young Powell is married and has one or more children. His death will be generally regretted at home where he was highly thought of.

Schulken-Bonham Nuptials.

A wedding that will come with pleasant surprise to a large number of friends in Wilmington was that of Miss Pearl Bonham, formerly of this city and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John James Bonham, of Atkinson, N. C., and Mr. Arthur Schulken, a clever salesman in the department store of Messrs. J. H. Rehder & Co., in Wilmington. The groom went up to the home of the bride Sunday morning, returning the same evening with the bride-elect and they were quietly married at the home of the pastor of St. Andrews' Presbyterian Church, the Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., officiating. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Schulken received the happiest congratulations of friends and went to their home, No. 406 North Fourth street, where they were given a cordial reception.

SPRING HATS

[Original.]

I never see the fireflies glitter on the lawn but I go back to that scene which was to prove so eventful to me, though I didn't know at the time that it was of any importance whatever. I had put Dick off from one date to another in the matter of our wedding, and he was becoming importunate. He said he couldn't settle down to anything till we were married and once more in the humdrum of life. The humdrum of life! I was bound that if he proposed a humdrum married condition for us I did not. But I said nothing to him of my intention. I did not appear to notice the objectionable word. I simply told him that a trousseau was essential to a bride and a trousseau would require months to procure. Then, with malice prepense, I remarked that the style of spring hats was not becoming to me and I might decide on that account to wait till autumn. I said this with such naturalness that he believed me and knit his brow. When he left my common sense told me that I had gone too far with him. But I had no fear. He had tried so hard to get me that there seemed little chance of his giving me up for a trifle.

One evening in June I was sitting on the piazza steps. The air was deliciously balmy, and it was the season for fireflies. The children on the lawn beneath me were flitting hither and thither, laughing and shouting as they tried to catch the "lightning bugs," grasping at a flash, then turning on seeing another in a new direction. I heard the gate, which was behind a clump of low trees where I couldn't see it, shut with a click and a quick step coming up the winding walk. I recognized Dick's step and knew by it that he had something of importance for me.

Alas, that he came at such a time! When children are naughty we tell them that a bad spirit has got into them. A bad spirit had certainly got into me. The sweet scene before me, instead of making me plastic, hardened me. We are unconscious of the causes of our moods, but causes are always there. Perhaps in my case the "humdrum of life" grated upon this first bloom of summer. At any rate, when Dick reached me I was steeled against persuasion.

"Beatrice," he said, "we must be married at once."

"That with me is impossible," I replied.

"Impossible? There is no such word."

"How would 'I will not' suit you?"

"Much better. There is something in that; in the other there is nothing."

His tone was one of irritation, and it had the same effect on me. "I'm glad I've found words to suit you," I remarked coldly.

"See here, Beatrice"—with Dick "See here" always preceded something disagreeable—"if you intend to marry me there are reasons—very good reasons—why you should do so at once—that is, within a week. The world treats us seriously and will not always wait for us. At least I can't make a success of it and indulge your whims. What do you say to"—

"If you are in such a hurry for the humdrum of life I am not. And as for whims, marriage is too serious an affair for us to mingle whims with our decisions. I will not marry now because I have not made up my mind."

"Oh, you have not made up your mind! Well, I have made up mine. Goodby. If you make it up before Saturday next, write me. After that it will be too late."

In another moment I heard the gate click and his footsteps rapidly growing less distinct.

The gate doesn't click now; I persuaded father to take it off its hinges. I couldn't endure to hear it. I spent a week struggling with my pride, for Dick's resolute manner had told me that he was in earnest. But I could not conquer it. The week expired. I wrote him as though nothing had happened between us, addressing him at his lodgings in the city as usual.

That's two years ago, and since that time I have never had a letter from Dick. I have known that about the date of our break he went to Mexico to establish some agency or other. Three months after his departure my letter to him came back to me from the dead letter office. I didn't write another. Dick had not given me his address. Besides, he had told me "after that it will be too late." For two long years I wished the "dead heart office" would send me back mine.

And now, the second June after Dick's departure, we are sitting on the steps watching the children chase the fireflies. I heard a step on the walk and knew it was his. The first thing he said—he had to say something—was:

"What's become of the gate?"

"Father took it away because it was such a noisy one." God forgive the lie! I didn't want to tell it. I wanted to fling myself in his arms.

He told me that he had made money in South America. He had been obliged to go for two years and had hoped to take me with him, but he was forced to go without me. He asked me if I was still free and if I would marry him. I said I would. He asked me to set a date, and I told him that the summer style of hats was very becoming to me and I had a supply on hand. I was ready at any time.

"Thank God!" he gasped.

The pokery stiffness vanished from within me. I threw my arms around his neck. FLORA MILLIGAN.

Street Cars In Brazil.

"There are first and second class street cars," writes a tourist, describing his South American travels, "and I, with a package in my arms, had taken a first class bond, as a street car is called in Rio de Janeiro. Scarcely had I done so when the conductor requested me to transfer to a second class car whenever it might come along, because no one is allowed to carry anything greater than a lap satchel first class. So I humbly descended and had either to mix with market women and sweaty laborers or to take a tilbury. A person without a necktie is no more allowed first class on the street cars than was I with my parcel. They are decidedly particular in Brazil and inherit many fastidious ways from the time of the empire, when dress and manners were the mark separating the aristocracy from the working classes."

Commenting on the recent "economy" test held under the auspices of the Chicago Automobile Club, the Inter Ocean says: "Thomas J. Hay overtook fame by driving his little Ford runabout over the course on the smallest amount of gasoline. The Ford made the greatest mileage of any of the 23 cars competing, covering the 95 miles on 2 gallons, 3 quarts, 15 ounces of gasoline—an average of 33.1 miles to the gallon. Fine information for the man whose wife wants to buy a car but who tells her the game is too expensive. Beats street car fare and is almst cheaper than walking, with sole leather at present price." Messrs. Platt & Co. are agents for this famous little runabout. **

—Salisbury, N. C., Sept. 30: In the North Carolina Courts and arising in Salisbury an interesting suit against the Southern Railway will be instituted at this term of court. Rev. Dr. W. H. Goler, president of Livingstone College, of this city, is complainant. Dr. Goler, who is colored, was riding to Charlotte. The car reserved for colored people was not to his satisfaction and he moved over into a white car. The conductor passing through asked him to go out and he replied that the laws of the State provided "equal accommodations for the colored and the whites" and refused to vacate. A few words resulted in putting the colored minister off at Sumner, five miles away, and he was forced to walk back. Dr. Goler then took a train for Charlotte. He missed the engagement as planned.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, Druggist. 25c.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 30.—The movement of prices in the stock market today was regarded as due rather to the adjustment of speculative contracts amongst professional operators than to any new view of the conditions. The professionals were heavy sellers on the short side last week and they took advantage of the outside selling attracted over the week end to cover extensive short lines today. The selling induced by last week's sharp decline was most pronounced today for London account. From the lower level of prices at the start there was a brisk recovery and a show of vigorous strength for a time, but with a reduction of the short interest and the satisfaction of the demand from that source the market sank back into a mood of uncertainty and of irregular fluctuations. The money market reflected the preparation for the October settlements as is usually the case on the last day of the month. The punishment administered to the shorts in Canadian Pacific was illustrated in a 13 points rise in that stock and the disposition of bears to cover elsewhere was emphasized.

Bonds were irregular. Total sames, part value, $1,366,000. United tSates bonds were unchanged on call.

THE COTTON MARKET

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 30.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular. Fluctuations were comparatively broad there being 15, to 20 points between the highest and lowest for the day, but net changes were slight with the close steady at a net decline of one to seven points. Sales for the day estimated at 350,000 bales.

The opening was steady at a decline of one to eight points which was better than due on the cables. During the early session prices worked off to a net decline of four to nine points on the active months under Liverpool and New Orleans selling local traders got short on the decline and before midday, prices rallied on covering and support from brokers believed to be working for the leading outside operator. After showing a net advance of 8 to 11 points there was a reaction under realizing but there seemed to be a pretty good demand on a scale down and the close was steady. Weather reports were considered fairly favorable but attracted little attention with the trade chiefly concerned about the attitude of Southern spot holders who seem to be refusing to meet any decline in values, and a probable showing of the government reports on Wednesday. One private condition report was issued showing a deterioration of 4.6 per cent. for the month and it was rumored that a southern association estimated the amount of cotton ginned to September 15th at 1,300,000 bales against 2,044,000 bales officially reported to the same date last year.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 39,063 bales against 31,873 last week and 47,346 last year. For the week 250,000 bales against 220,199 last week and 313,576 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 8,832 bales against 6,718 last year, and at Houston 6,998 bales against 16,741 last year.

Cotton: Spot closed quiet 5 points lower; middling uplands 11.80; middling gulf 12.05; sales 157 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed steady.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellet appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affects the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. NATION'S HOMAGE TO DEAD PATRIOT

Splendid Monument to Memory of William McKinley Unveiled at Canton, Ohio.

GIFT OF MILLION AMERICANS

President Roosevelt, Judge Day, Governor Harriss and Other Porminent Speakers—Fifty Thousand People Participate.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Canton, O., Sept. 30.—The Nation paid homage today to the memory of William McKinley when the splendid monument which marks his last resting place was unveiled in the presence of an assembled throng such as Canton never saw before and with the President of the United States as the principal speaker. It was the tribute of a grateful Nation both in word and in deed to "a good citizen," a brave soldier, a wise executive, and more than fifty thousand persons representing all walks of life and every part of the country participated in the ceremonies dedicating the monument, the loving gift of a million Americans whose contributions aggregating $600,000, provided the splendid tomb in which rest the bodies of the third of the martyred presidents, his wife and their two children.

Distinguished men from all parts of the country and many representatives of foreign countries made the pilgrimage here to participate in the dedication of the mausoleum and made the event a notable one.

The monument is a magnificent structure, simple but imposing. In the sarcophagi are the bronze caskets containing the bodies of both President McKinley and his wife. In niches in the wall of the tomb are two little caskets containing the ashes of their only children, Ida and Mary both of whom died in infancy.

The President arrived at Canton at 10:15 A. M. and after reviewing the parade he proceeded to Monument Hill, where the ceremony took place. Judge Day, president of the monument Commission, first introduced Governor Harris who spoke for an hour. He was followed by Judge Day, who, at the close of his remarks, introduced President Roosevelt.

The President immediately after reaching the reviewing stand witnessed the magnificent military and civic parade which took nearly an hour and a half in passing. At the close of the parade the President was taken to monument hill where the unveiling ceremony took place. The arrival of President Roosevelt upon the stand was awaited anxiously and greeted with cheers. He was accompanied by Justice Day and Vice President Fairbanks. At 2:24 Justice Day called the assemblage to order and in a few words introduced Governor Harris, president of the day. Rev. Dr. Britol of Washington, offered prayer. Governor Harris then delivered the opening address of the ceremony.

After the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner Justice Day spoke.

At the close of Judge Day's address Miss Helen McKinley, the only sister of the late President, drew aside the flag disclosing the bronze figure of Mr. McKinely in the attitude of delivering his last speech on the day of his assassination at Buffalo, September 6th, 1901.

This was followed by the reading of a poem entitled "William McKinley," by James Whitcomb Riley.

President Harris then introduced President Roosevelt, who spoke at some length in eulogy of his beloved predecessor in office.

PRETTY FINANCIAL ROW.

Directors Sued for Negligence in Loss by Sale of Securities.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 30.—An order was granted today by Supreme Court Justice Fitts, dividing the actions brought against the directors of the Merchants' Trust Company by the receivers to recover $1,500,000, the capital and surplus, which it is claimed was lost through the negligence of the directors mainly in disposing of Richmond, Va., traction securities. The [illegible] was granted on motion of William B. Ellison, who contended that certain directors whom he represented did not participate in the sale of the securities and were entitled to separate action from those directors who did participate.

RICH PHYSICIAN TURNS BURGLAR

New Rochelle, New York, Has Sensation Over New Raffles And Wife.

ENTERED HARDWARE STORE

Caught and Forfeited $3,000 Bond Furnished by His Friends—His Wife Attempted Suicide and So Did He.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New Rochelle, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The excitement under which New Rochelle labored yesterday when Samuel Rolin, who posed as a wealthy physician, was arrested on a charge of burglary, was augmented today.

Bolin failed to appear in court when the case was called, and the $3,000 bail which friends had put up for him last night, was forfeited. The next shock came when Mrs. Bolin told the people that while she believed her husband owned an interest in a drug store in Harlem, his regular occupation was that of bar tender in a saloon in the Bronx. Then came the assertion that Bolin had served a prison term in New Jersey and had been arrested for burglary and other things in New York.

Mrs. Bolin threw herself in front of a slowly moving trolley car on Main street this afternoon, but the car was stopped before she was in any particular danger. Later the police stated that she had disappeared from town and they did not know where she had gone. According to Mrs. Bolin, her husband attempted twice to kill himself after he was released on bail, but she prevented him. He then left the house and disappeared. Mrs. Bolin told the police that she had married Bolin Vasshoff in Russia in 1902. Soon after, her husband came to America and two years ago sent for her, and she came here and joined him. It is stated that Bolin was arrested December 1st, 1905, on complaint of Gussie Lytchenstein, his common law wife, on a charge of assault.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Sept. 30.—At an early hour this morning Dr. Samuel Bolin, 29 years old, who resides in a fashionable section of New Rochelle, was arrested on a charge of burglary. Although the physician protested his innocence, he was taken to the New Rochelle police station and locked up this morning, held in $3,000 bail.

The police saw a man attempting to break into a hardware store at No. 44 Mechouri Street, and gave chase, but the man sprang over a fence and got away. The police claim to have recognized the man as Dr. Bolin.

Dr. Bolin today vigorously denied having been in the vicinity at the time, but the policemen declared that they were sure he was the man. Dr. Bolin owns $50,000 worth of property. He moved to New Rochelle four months ago and recently purchased a large villa here.

AN ATROCIUOS CRIME

Negro Shot Lover and Then Committed Criminal Assault.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—A posse last night scoured Alexandria county, Va., for a negro who Sunday waylaid and perhaps fatally shot John William Mullen, aged twenty-one, near Rosslyn, opposite this city, and then assaulted Miss Amelia Weiss, aged seventeen, Mullen's financee, with whom he was out walking.

Without warning, the negro opened fire on Mullen, shooting him through the mouth and splitting his tongue. He then dragged the girl into a thicket, holding her captive for more than an hour. As he left her he said he was going back to her lover "and finish his job."

Mullen, however, was able to make his way up the hill and tell of the crime, the girl meantime finding her way to her home, where she informed her parents. The affair is regarded as one of the most atrocious that has occurred in this vicinity, and if the negro is found, it is believed that the threats of lynching freely indulged in will be put into effect. The extent of Mullen's injuries has not been ascertained at the hospital where he was taken.

STILL AFTER SENATOR PLATT.

Pretty Female Government Clerk Now Wants a Divorce—Denial.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 30.—Mae Catherine Wood, the former government clerk who has been suing United States Senator Thomas C. Platt for several years, today brought action in the Supreme Court for absolute divorce from the Senator, alleging that she had been married to him in a Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, in 1901.

J. D. Lee, representing the plaintiff, announced the action as "Platt against Platt," and he said the motion was for the purpose of framing an issue. He said he wanted the details to become generally known.

John B. Stanchfield, who appeared for Senator Platt, asked that the matter be heard in private by a referee. He said Senator Platt was never married to Miss Wood, and therefore, there was no ground for divorce. Justice Seabury reserved his decision.

ATLANTIC FLEET IN SEVERE STORM

Squadron Lying off Cape Cod Bay Near Boston Buffeted By Wind.

TWO LIVES WERE LOST

Lieutenant Fuerse and Seaman Among the Missing—Several Ships Lost Their Anchors—How the Big Boats Behaved.

Boston, Mass, Sept. 30.—Wireless dispatches received today from the Atlantic Squadron anchored at the head of Cape Cod Bay, off the Barnstable shore, show that two lives were lost, two vessels damaged and the entire fleet was given a severe shaking up in the storm which raged yesterday in the bay. The fleet was anchored on a lee shore and only the strength of their ground tackle saved some of the big war vessels from being thrown on the beach.

Those who lost their lives were Lieutenant John H. Fuerse, of the battleship Illinois, and an ordinary seaman, of the battleship Minnesota.

The refrigerator ship Glacier dragged her anchor and collided with the cruiser Des Moines, necessitating the sending of both vessels to the Charleston Navy Yard for repairs.

More than twenty hours the great ships were tumbled about in the big seas which surged into the bay. Lieutenant Fuerse was thrown against a hatchway on the Illinois and so badly injured that he died during the night. The seamen on the Minnesota was washed overboard and drowned, while nearly every vessel had some of her crew bruised by being hurled about the ship.

The following vessels lost their anchors and chains: The Minnesota, the Kentucky, the Des Moines (two anchors), the Marcellus, the Ohio, the Glacier (two anchors), the Caesar and the Mayflower. The Kearsarge and Maine lost their anchors getting under way but those of the Maine were recovered.

Lieutenant Fuerse was a native of South Carolina but was appointed to the Naval Academy from Georgia.

AS TO STATES' RIGHTS.

Interesting Discussion at Meeting of Attorney Generals.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—A strong desire to do away with the conflict of jurisdiction between State and Federal courts and as one of the phases of that to restrict the power of Federal courts in their dealings with affairs pertaining wholly to a State, seemed to prevail at a convention of Attorney Generals or Assistants from thirteen States at the Southern Hotel today. Most of the trouble was traced to the 14th amendment to the constitution by Attorney General R. V. Fletcher, of Mississippi, who said he did not see why it should not be repealed as it did no good for the negroes for whom it was originally passed and succeeded only in embarassing State courts.

Paper were read today by Jewel P. Lightfoot, Assistant Attorney General of Texas; Herbert S. Hadley, Attorney General of Missouri and Edward T. Young, Attorney General of Minnesota.

Peculiar interest was given the paper on "Conflict Between State and Federal Courts," by Attorney General Young, of Minnesota, by the fact that he expects to be arrested on his return to Minnesota in connection with a contempt case arising out of conflict between courts. Murmurs of approval greeted Young's statement that the most trouble arose from the exercise by Federal court of powers which the founders of the government never intended they should have and that it was plain these powers must be limited. Mr. Young also said that many Federal judges seem to misunderstand the relations between State and National governments and the extent of their own powers.

EXPOSITION ROW.

Some of the Resignation—Southgate to Succeed.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 30.—That a number of the heads of departments created by Director General Barr and filled by his appointments have resigned is freely admitted tonight by Jamestown Exposition Company officials. It is declared that the resignations are formal in character and that should they be re-appointed by the new head to be named at a called meeting of the board of directors they will accept. On the other hand, there are those who declare that those resigning side with Mr. Barr in the social war and will insist on going out of office with Mr. Barr. Those known positively to have tendered resignations are:

John A. Wakefield, director of concessions, and H. E. Sherwood, director of admissions.

William M. Dixon, assistant director general, who is reported to have tendered his resignation, could not be located for confirmation.

S. W. Bolles, director of publicity, tonight denied that he had tendered his resignation or that he would do so.

Tonight T. S. Southgate is prominently mentioned as Mr. Barr's successor.
